

A Fascination for Model Railways in Mannheim

Herpa is back!

From March 6 to 8, the Maimarkthalle (May market hall) will once again be filled with a world of precision, passion, and boundless creativity. This year, we will continue showcasing highlights from the miniature world – detailed, authentic, and with that special spark that sets our models apart.

Of course, this will include a special highlight at booth 1430 of the Maimarkthalle:

Our trade fair model is based on the basic platform of a high-roof Mercedes Benz Sprinter with detailed printing of a railway motif. Just like last year, we are once again making use of artificial intelligence. This unique collector's item combines AI inspiration with genuine craftsmanship – an eye-catcher for anyone looking for something out of the ordinary.

Whether you're a collector, a fan of technology, or just a curious visitor, anyone who comes by will be inspired, amazed, and surprised. Mannheim is becoming a meeting place for everyone who loves miniatures and welcomes innovation. We are already looking forward to seeing each and every one of you.
