

Happy Hobby Weekend in Leipzig

Experience leisure in all forms

One of the things that makes the Hobbymesse in Leipzig so special is that there is no other trade fair that presents so many hobbies on just one site. Consequently, a trip to Leipzig from October 3 to 5 is definitely worthwhile.

We have printed this year's trade fair model, a high roof Mercedes-Benz Sprinter, in comic style for your display case, your diorama, or as a small souvenir. The model is limited and available from us in Hall 3 at Stand J20. The turquoise silhouettes of a truck, a car, an airplane, and a locomotive are rendered on this miniature vehicle – so much to be found in a fair hall combined on one model for just 10 euros.

There is also exciting news for TT model fans (1:120). Because we have four different trade fair models in special colors in this scale at booth J20. Whether it's to be a VW Golf I, a Skoda 110, a Moskwitsch 408, a Wolga M24 or all four is of course up to you. These limited special models were produced exclusively for the hobby fair and are only available in Leipzig.

We have one more matter very close to our hearts - putting a spotlight on the Arbeiter-Samariter-Bund, ASB (Workers' Samaritan Association) in miniature form. Visit our stand in Hall 3 and get the exclusive miniature model for just 25 euros. At the same time, you can admire the original right next to our stand at J20. Helping out has never been so easy, because with every purchase you give the ASB a much-needed boost. 8 euros per model will be donated to this wonderful and important project.

Our trade fair team and Product Manager of Cars & Trucks, Stefan Blank, look forward to all the inspiring discussions with you at the Hobbymesse in Leipzig.
